Friday 23rd April

For today's lesson, I would like you write about your hero. Who do you look up to? Who inspires you? It could be a friend, family member or celebrity. Include in your writing why they are your hero and include a range of figurative language. You could also draw a picture to go with your hero description. It would be great to showcase some on our learning page so please send them in when they're finished.

Remember- not every superhero wears a cape!
