

Fennec Foxes

The fennec fox is a beautiful animal. It has beautiful blonde fur that keeps it warm in the winter time period. With its ears that measure up to an amazing 6 inches, fennec foxes have very good hearing. Their ears also radiate body heat, keeping the fox cool. Their feet are also covered in much fur so that they don't burn their feet while digging in the hot sand. These creatures are also nocturnal and they hunt when the temperature is low.

Habitats

Fennec foxes live in deserts and semi-desert habitats. The home range of these foxes is widespread throughout the deserts of the Sahara and throughout North Africa. They burrow into sand dunes during the day, to avoid the extreme heat.
