Recap your understanding of the story read on Monday!

Many authors have said that they gain a greater understanding of main aspects of their stories through drawing before writing!

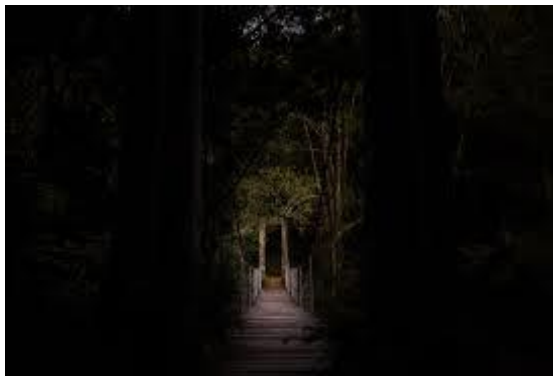

The story that you read is set in 'Sandy Cove'.

Using the structure of this story...where is the setting of your story?

Draw an image of your setting. How can you demonstrate suspense and clues what your story is about in your drawing?

- Does the weather reflect the mood?
- Are there clues within the picture that the reader can infer/make predictions?
- Does your use of shading and colour depict the mood/tone?
